Trial of Garland, the Virginia Duelist.

LUNENBURG, August 17.—The trial of R. B. Garland for the murder of Joseph Addison, attracted another very large crowd to-day. Judge Hinton, representing the prosecution, asked that some time during the trial the jury be taken to the spot where the tragedy occurred so that they might be shown the place and its surroundings. The court asked the jury if they desired to do so, and they replied that noths

LUNENBURG COURT-HOUSE, Va., August 16.—The Gariand murder trial was resumed this morning, when the prisoner was brought into the courtroom looking somewhat pale. On opening court, Judge Hilton gave notice that he would ask for the production of all three of the pistols used by Messrs. Garland, Boswell and Roach. The counsel for the defense stated that he would also ask for the production of all the wenpous used by Addison and his friends. The examination of witnesses was then commenced. E S. Jones was examined. He gave a de tailed account of getting Miss Hatchell's letters from the Wattsboro post cffice, addressed to Addison, with the request that he forward them to Garland. Also of Addison's saying that he was going to endorse them; of his (witness,) being present at the duel and seeing Boswell hand Garland a pistor; also of his going after a physician to attend Addison after he was shot. The representation of a hickory tree a foot and eight and a half inches in circumference, behind which Addison got after being shot, was produced in court and identified by the witness, who explained Addison's position while behind it. John J. Eans was next called.

He testified to being in Wedderburn's saw mill when Boswell called and informed Addison that Garland was down the road waiting to see him. Witness also testified to Addison's going to meet Garland, carrying three of his friends with him. Eans gave a detailed account of the introduction of Addison and Garland by Boswell and the sutsequent duel; also to Boswell's giving Garland another pistol after he (Garland) had emptied his pistot; also to the wounding of Addision and his position at the tree, body of ex-Union soldiers took part est. SYMPTOMS OF A DISEASED LIVER. Bad Breath, Pain in the Side, sometimes the pain is felt under the Shoulder-blade, mistaken for Rheumatism: general loss of appetite: Bowels generally costive, sometimes alternating with lax; the head is troubled with pain, is dull and heavy, with considerable loss of memory, accumpanied with a painful sensation of leaving undone something which ought to have been done; a slight, dry cough and flushed face is sometimes an attendant, often mistaken for consumption; the patient complains of weariness and debuity; nervous, easily startled, feet cold or burning, sometimes a prickly sensation of the skin exists; spirits are low and despendent, and, although satisfied that exercise would be beneficial, yet one can hardly summon oup fortitude to try it—in fact, distrinsts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred when but few of them existed, yet examination after death has shown the Liver to have been extensively deranged.

Persons Traveling or Living in Uuhealthy Localities, by taking a dose occasionally to keep the Liver in healthy action, will avoid all Malaria, Billious attacks, Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Depression of Spirits, etc. It will invigorate like a glass of wine, but is no in-toxicating beverage.
